

VECTOR GRAPHICS PROCESSING IN ORACLE

Summary - The paper contains presentations of methods allowing for conversions of data saved in the form of vector graphic files to the internal representation of a database, spatial data type. Was realized also the mechanism of the reverse conversion which allows the export of the data stored in the database to an external image file. Ensured complete reconstruction of graphics information.