

MATHEMATICAL MODELS AND METHODS USED IN IRON LOSS EVALUATION UNDER LONGITUDINAL AS WELL AS ROTATIONAL MAGNETISATION

Summary – The paper presents directions of mathematical model evolution, enabling on iron loss estimation in soft ferromagnetics, under longitudinal as well as rotational magnetization. Fundamental differences in mathematical notation was pointed out. These differences enable iron loss estimation under nonsinusoidal magnetic flux waveform.